Enhörna IF

TODAY WE WELCOME Enhörna IF to Essinge IP. This is the first time the two clubs have met each other. They were founded in 1928 and have many teams involved in their youth section as well as a Talent for the Future team who currently play in division 6. It is not just football that the club compete in as they a gymnastic club and a ski club in their organisation. So far this season it has been a very mixed bag of results with wins being recorded only against the two bottom sides and a draw against Älvsjö. The last two league games have seen defeats against Spårvägen and top club Assyriska, so the y will be very keen to get the points today and pull away from the teams at the foot of the table. One of their players to look out for is James Ateseven, the former Assyriska player has a keen eye for goal. ▲

DADS ARMY MAKE A POINT

THE FACT THAT NICK SHORT had become a father less than twelve hours before the match did not deter the Långholmen manager from appearing trackside for this top of the table clash. An honour even match prompted the shiny headed coach to say that he was proud of the lads for keeping up with the tempo and joked how Andy Startup caused a few remarks when declaring he was going into the box for the free kick that led to the stripes' equaliser. A sunshine filled afternoon saw Långholmen being pinned back from the first minute and on three minutes Bradley Fry's attempt on the break was easily collected by the portly goalkeeper. The hosts were looking disjointed at the back and indeed a fifty percent fit Kevin Everest failed to keep up with Sörskogens Joakim Zachrisson who ran onto a through ball and placed his shot beyond Mole and into the bottom left hand corner of the net. The stripes really failed to create more than three or four clear cut chances in the entire first half and the same can be said for the opposition as the game was constantly disrupted by an over assertive referee, who at times was stopping and starting the game so much that his whistle blowing was reminiscent of that of the rave scene in the early nineties...non stop. SIF then had a man sent off on the stroke of half time for a second bookable offence bringing a drab 45 minutes to a close.

The second half will not be noted for it's great showing of football but for the scenes that followed straight after the re start LFC's Robbie Graham was sent off for a challenge on his opposing number a harsh decision not only for the fact it was in no way a harsh challenge, but it was also the first booking for the Stripes captain. Graham refused to leave the pitch and players from both camps became involved in discussions with the ref. The unsure and bewildered official then ran to the centre circle and abandoned the game much to the astonishment of players coaching staff and supporters alike. Short and his adversary ran behind the Referee and pleaded with him to restart the match and after a lengthy negotiation he did indeed return to the field of play. The match continued, but was a very lame affair with a number of yellow cards being distributed for minor misdemeanours and both sides failing to get into any real stride due to the nature of refereeing. The Stripes battled on and tried to break down the visitors backline to no avail until a well placed free kick from Melvin O'Sullivan was fumbled by the keeper and picked out by defending star Andy Startup who cracked the ball home from close range, a rare attacking exploit that keep his team at the top of the league. ▲

Max factor: Assistant Manager Max Hallberg tells you how it is.

SO FAR WE HAVE PLAYED 7 GAMES and as all of you know we have not managed to win a game in division 3 as of yet. Still, I think we have a squad that work hard in every game and adapting to the higher pace, and learning the hard way, what it takes to play on this level. On the positive side is that we dont feel "outplayed" in any of the games so far and we create chances and we score goals enough to win games. Unfortunately we also conceding too many goals and that is something we have to turn around, we feel that we get punished by our mistakes, not because the other teams play very well. We are now going in to two very important games, Enhörna today and away against Mälardjölden next week. We feel that the spirit in the squad is still very good and we are looking forward to todays game in a very positive way and we will do everything in our power to take our first win of the season today. I hope you will continue and support us in the way you have done so far this season, it is a big boost for the players and the management. I hope that you will enjoy the game and that we can take all three points today! ▲
